Ted Lange on vocals. Grammy Nominated

Today, on a downtown sidewalk, I saw you today
You smiled, you looked happy with him
So I tried to smile
I told you I was strong now but baby I lied
I was dying inside.

*Still, after all of this time
One look at you stops this whole world of mine
Still, just the thought of your kiss
I close my eyes I can taste your sweet lips
You get to me, you always have, always will
You make my heart..... stand still.*

I tried, I tried to be strong and move on, believe me I’ve tried
But then, I realized there’s no way I can win
When my whole world is turning in the palm of your hand
And I’m left standing....

Now everyday is the same, nothing has changed
You’re all I see in my mind (in my mind)
I’d beg, steal, I’ll borrow, for just one tomorrow
But here, I am frozen inside ohoh STILL
